SIX STATES HUNT KIDNAPED BOY

Nurse Disappears With Albany Judge's Son, 3

MOVIES TO AID IN SEARCH

75 Lodges Of Elks Also Instructed To Assist

ALBANY, N. Y. — (United Press) — Police of half a dozen states today joined in a hunt for Leopold Minkin, 3, son of City Judge Leopold Minkin. The child has been missing since Thursday, when he was taken out for a walk by a new nursemaid.

Governor A. E. Smith, after Mayor Hackett had offered a $1,000 reward, asked the authorities of New York City and of states adjoining New York, to aid in the search. Detectives throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and the New England states are hunting the lad, whose disappearance may take rank with the famous Charley Ross case.

The nursemaid gave the name of Mary Conkling, 20. Detectives said that she was unknown at the place which she gave as reference. She was last seen with the child on a street car going from Albany to Troy.

TIP SUPPLIED
The search centered in Troy today and was also intensified in Burlington, Vt., as authorities had a "tip" that the boy had been taken there. His tip was supplied by a negro porter who said he saw the child accompanied by a woman on the train enroute to that city.

Mrs. Minkin told police the nursemaid had been in her employ only one day. She and the baby had a great liking for each other. Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Minkin went for a visit to her mother. When she returned the boy and his nurse were gone. Little Leopold's clothing was gone and Mrs. Minkin said

SCHOOL HEAD SHOT IN GUN BATTLE

Bandits Get Nearly $1,500 In McGuffey Store Holdup

W. L. THOMAS STORE ROBBED

Mayor Of Village Intimidated By Two Gunmen

No trace had been found Saturday morning of the two bandits who held up the W. L. Thomas & Co. general store at McGuffey, shortly before 9 p. m. Friday and escaped with $300 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $1,200, after shooting Superintendent of Schools, Ralph Shilling.

The two gunmen entered the store unmasked, with their coat collars turned up and their caps pulled down over their eyes as their only protection from being recognized and ordered Timothy G. Thomas, owner of the store, to throw up his hands.

The first gunman said to Thomas, "We have heard of you and your big gun; now line up against the wall." Thomas keeps a large gun in the store at all times.

Those in the store who were ordered to line up against the wall were Thomas, the proprietor of the store; Ralph Shilling, superintendent of the schools; J. H. Quint, mayor of McGuffey; Charles Henning and Andy Freshcorn, customers, and two small boys.

SHILLING WOUNDED
Shilling refused to throw up his hands and one of the bandits shot him in the right arm, the bullet

MOTHER OF TWENTY WINS FIGHT FOR LIFE

LEWISBURG, W. Va. — Mrs. Homer McMann, 37, the last four of whose 20 children were quadruplets, is winning her fight for life, physicians declared today.

The four infant boys, each weighing slightly more than five pounds at birth, so overtaxed their mother's strength when they were born that physicians yesterday abandoned hope for her recovery.

WILL BLOW LID OFF FOR UNCLE JOE

Danville Plans Demonstration For Patriarch Of Congress

DANVILLE, Ills. — (Associated Press) — "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the patriarch of congress, was back under his own roof here today, to rest, definitely retired from public service for the first time since he went to Washington during the administration of President Grant.

Only a knot of casuals saw the veteran statesman, tired, pale and walking slowly on the arm of a friend, altho none the less jauntily despite his 77 years, leave the train.

In deference to Uncle Joe's wishes, Danville did not turn out with bands and decorated automobiles to welcome him. But just as soon as he gets rested up, the folks are planning to blow the lid off the town to show Uncle Joe what the home folks think of him.

The railroad equipment on that first ride to congress did not quite measure up to that of the present, but they it was not so bad after all, said Uncle Joe.

FALL VICTIMS OF MYSTERY CAR

Carried Aboard Train In New York Subway

PASSENGERS TOPPLE OVER

Many In Hospital — Anesthetic Owner Arrested

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Sixty passengers on a Seventh-av subway train were overcome early today by ether escaping from a mysterious can carried by Richard Chanorro, a young South American, who told the police he was taking it home for a cold.

When the train pulled in at the 16th street station, practically every passenger in one car was swooning and some women were hysterical. Two passengers were removed to a hospital. Chanorro was arrested.

The train was jammed with late after-theatre crowds but the fumes were confined to one car. When the two passengers who were the most seriously overcome were carried from the car to the platform, police were summoned to preserve order.

OFFICERS ABOARD

Soon after Chanorro entered the train the pungent odor of ether permeated the car and the men and women became ill. Some of those standing dropped to the floor unconscious. A patrolman and a detective who were passengers and partly overcome, saw Chanorro holding a tin can and traced the escaping fumes to it. When he attempted to walk away they pounced upon him.

RAINMAKING BY AIRPLANE IS PROVEN PRACTICABLE

WASHINGTON — Rainmaking by use of the airplane has been demonstrated to be practicable in experiments conducted at the Dayton, Ohio, army air station, Brigadier General William Mitchell of the army air service, said in an address here last night. The experiments, he said, were being continued by scientists with the use of army air equipment in order to perfect the process.

14 MEN HURT IN FORT MYER FIRE

Eight Buildings At The Post Are Destroyed

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Fourteen men, most of them soldiers, were injured when a fire late last night swept thru historic Fort Myer, Va.

Eight buildings of the fort which adjoins Arlington National Cemetery and stands on the Virginia hills just across the Potomac from Washington, were burned. For a time the entire post was threatened with destruction. The loss is estimated at about $100,000.

By fast work on the part of the soldiers, patients in a hospital at the fort were saved as the structure was menaced.

An overheated stove in one of the buildings is believed to have started the fire.

A series of gasoline explosions caused it to spread rapidly.

Several of those injured were overcome by smoke in fighting the fire but all are expected to recover.

PENFIELD WILL BE JAILED MONDAY

Defaulting Cashier At Springfield Gaining Strength

MISSING MONEY TRACED

Only $130,000 As Yet Accounted For, However

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — (Associated Press) — With but $130,000 accounted for of the "more than $600,000" worth of Liberty bonds taken from the Springfield National Bank by A. H. Penfield, defaulting cashier, federal officials today were concentrating on running down clues on the whereabouts of the remaining amount. The $130,000 in bonds were uncovered in sales of $50,000 worth from a bank in Cincinnati and of $80,000 from a Columbus bank.

CASHIER STILL WEAK

Penfield will be placed in jail here not later than Monday, according to United States Marshal Michael Devaney, unless he furnishes the $25,000 bond set at his hearing Thursday.

Altho the defaulting cashier is still very weak from loss of blood in his attempted suicide by slashing his wrists, Dr. W. B. Quinn, who examined the man last night says that he ought to be strong enough to be moved Monday.

Operatives of the department of justice here declare that the Springfield National Bank case is the largest of its variety with which they have come in contact. They say that the ramifications of the Penfield manipulations may involve many men before the affair is finally wound up.

PRESIDENT KILLS HIMSELF

Chicago Institution Is Suspended For Investigation

HAS $2,700,000 DEPOSITS

Financier's Body Found In Auto On Lonely Road

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Doors of the Logan Square Trust and Savings Bank with deposits of $2,700,000, were closed today following the suicide of Fred W. Popp, president of the institution.

Investigators, who examined Popp's body, found in an automobile on a lonely farm road, discovered $61,000 in cancelled checks. The checks were drawn by Paul Popp, son of the president, on the Republic National Bank of St. Louis, payable to himself and endorsed by him.

The son was reluctant to explain the checks.

"I gave him that check book before I went to California two months ago," the son said. "It was my own personal account. I do not wish to talk about it further. I wish that it could be kept out of the newspapers."

Decision to close the bank was reached in the early hours today, after an all night conference of directors with H. E. Savage, chief bank examiner for Illinois.

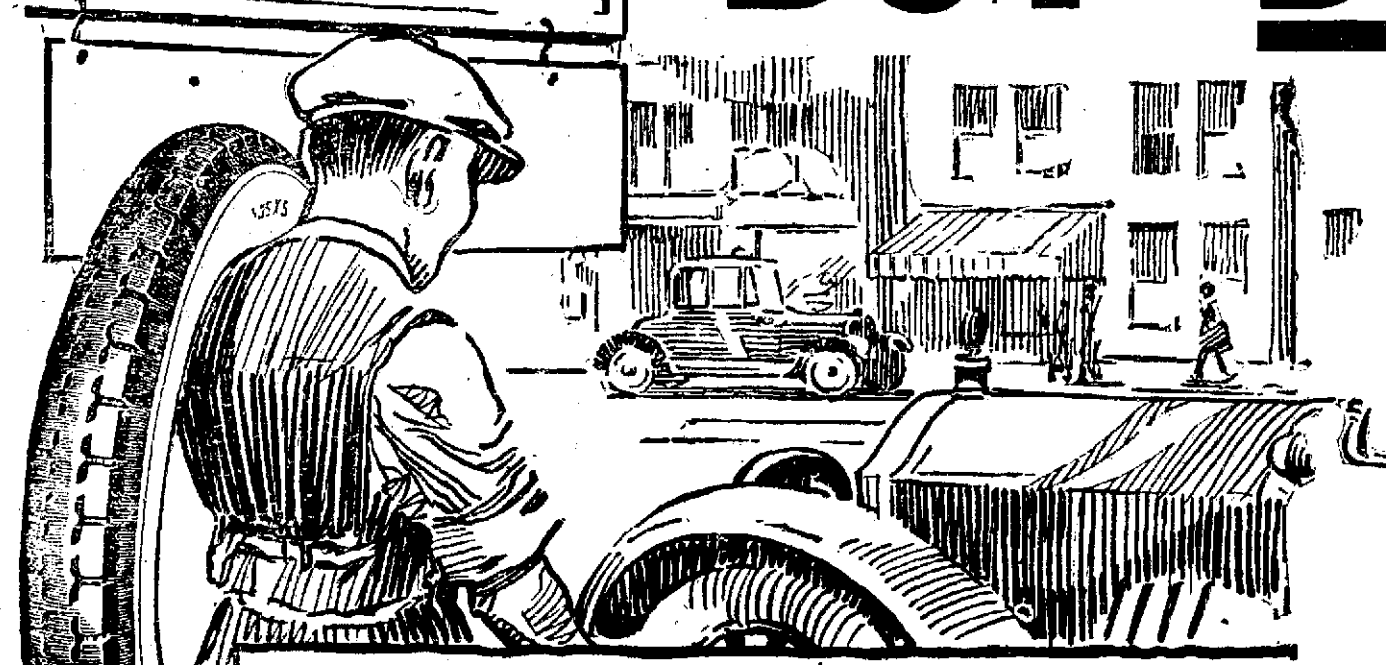

Savage said that it was deemed best to suspend business until a complete examination of the books could be made.

BANKER SHOT THRU HEAD

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — The Logan Square Trust and Savings Bank, capitalized at $200,000 and having deposits of $2,700,000, was closed today while the death by shooting yesterday of Fred W. Popp, its president, was investigated, and

ROUNDUP OF RUM FLEET DEMANDED

Put Destroyers On Chase, Temperance Board Urges

U. S. FAILURE DENOUNCED

"If Law Is Inadequate, Change It," Says Statement

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Demand that the United States use destroyers to round up the "rum fleet" reported off the port of New York, was made today by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"The only thing to do is to do tail United States destroyers to round up these ships, bring them to port and confiscate ships and their cargoes and jettison every man found on them," a statement of the board said.

The church board was bitter in its denunciation of the government's failure to halt the activities of the rum fleet.

If the ships are of foreign registry and the United States does not have the right under international law to act against the boats, the board declared that "international law ought to be changed and the United States ought to change it some time within the next few hours."

STATEMENT OF BOARD

"The countries which were saved from becoming German provinces by the United States are permitting their subjects and citizens to deal death and ruin to the American people under the cover of 'international law,'" the board stated.

"The United States is not China. Any one who thinks that Uncle Sam will stand up and have his nose pulled, his eye punched and his ribs displaced by hostile criminals without developing high blood pressure, is mistaken. The people of the United States want their interests defended by the government of the United States.

"It is absolutely absurd to intimate that 'measures' are going to be taken against these people, if it is meant by this statement that a handful of prohibition and custom officers are going to hop around from one foot on the shore and dodge around in the water, trying to head off a few cases of liquor."

BANKER MISSING

Disappearance Reported To New York Police

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Twenty Italians, accompanied by counsel, called today at police headquarters and reported that Vincenzo Tibbo, who conducts a bank on Mott-st., having deposits of $2,000,000, had disappeared Thursday night.

The delegation was referred to the district attorney's office.

BANKER IS SLAIN

Body Of Ohio Cashier Is Found In His Barn

CENTERBURG, Ohio—(Associated Press)—Lemott M. Dally, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank here, was found with a bullet hole in his head in his barn late last night. In the hay mow of the barn was found a revolver.

The Knox-corporation who is making an investigation said today he did not believe Mr. Dally was a victim of suicide.

Officials of the bank said there is no shortage in funds of the institution as far as they know.

EMBARGO REMOVAL HAS BEEN MADE COMPLETE

Clearing of the embargo situation on the Pennsylvania Railroad was made complete by announcement Saturday from Delphos, headquarters of the Pennsylvania division that restrictions on a division between Richmond, Indiana, and Grand Rapids, Michigan, had been lifted.

With the exception of a few small specific embargoes freight traffic is free. An embargo in the east, effective since December 29, was lifted Friday.

LIMA SHOW PRODUCER DIRECTS K. C. EVENT

C. C. Cleveland, Lima show producer, will conduct the first rehearsal Sunday at 3:30 p. m. for the "Follies of 1932," under auspices of the Knights of Columbus April 10 and 11 at St. John's auditorium, Delphos.

All who participated last year in the annual K. of C. minstrel have been asked by the K. of C. show committee to lend their assistance again. A large turnout is expected.

The show will be a review in five acts, different from the productions of previous years.

Special lighting effects will be used and Cleveland will secure a regular show orchestra.

APRIL 6 SET AS DATE FOR PLAY AT DELPHOS

April 6 has been set as the date for a play to be given by members of Delphos high school French classes.

The play, "Dust in the Eyes," is being translated by the French students from the original by Labiche. A cast has been selected by Eugene Mulholland, French instructor in charge of the production.

MERILE FUNERAL

Funeral services for Helen Marie Merile, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Merile, east of Delphos, who died from an attack of pneumonia, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church, Rushmore, in charge of Rev. Carter. Interment was made in Walnut Grove cemetery.

FOUR ARE READY TO GO TO JAIL

Chiropractors Refuse To Pay Fines Assessed By Court

START SENTENCES AT 4 P. M.

Arrange Affairs To Be Present From Offices 41 Days

Preparations to enter the county jail for 41-day terms were made by four members of the chiropractor profession in Lima Saturday.

The four practitioners were found guilty Friday night and fined $25 and costs each before Justice of the Peace W. H. Guyton on charges of illegal practice of medicine.

All four expressed themselves as being opposed to paying the fines. They are Glenn V. John, vice-president of the Universal Chiropractors Association, G. L. Potter, R. E. Swom and Ezekiel Hadsell.

"If that is the way you feel about it, gentlemen," declared Justice Guyton, "then so be it."

Arrangements were made by the quartet to report before Justice Guyton sometime Saturday and be formally committed to jail.

None of the four had appeared in court at noon. It was learned that they spent the morning actively in making preparations to enter upon prison life. They plan to go to jail in charge of an officer about 4 p. m.

An unconfirmed rumor current that the attitude of the practitioners might cause the court to weaken and suspend the fines, was denied by Justice Guyton.

G. L. Potter, one of the four men convicted visited Sheriff Harvey B. Crosson Saturday morning, to learn what articles he might bring with him.

He was told he might bring any articles of clothing he desired, books and magazines, toilet articles, and tobacco.

The matter of allowing meals to be sent into the prisoners from the outside has not fully been determined by Sheriff Crosson. He may permit the quartet to eat in the jail office.

This is the first time this question has been raised since he recently named officer Crosson said, and he desires to proceed according to law.

"GONE TO JAIL," SAYS SIGN

"Gone to jail for life, as a chiropractor."

This sign was posted on the door of the G. L. Potter office, Holmes-bldg., Saturday morning.

Chiropractors from other cities may be sent here to take over the practice of those committed to jail, it was learned Saturday.

Paul and Theresa Lerner and Ezekiel Hadsell, were the last three practitioners to be fined. They were found guilty Friday afternoon before Justice Guyton.

The Lerner and H. R. Bruff, a naturopath, will seek new trials, on grounds of error. Frank A. and Cella Dorsey, detectives for the Ohio medical association, testified in all seven cases. E. O. Parks, attorney for the medical society, conducted the prosecution Friday.

STUDENTS SUSPENDED

QUICKSAND UNDER ROAD IS STILL BEING FOUGHT

Widening of a new foundation established on Lima-av. Delphos, has been started under county supervision. Material in being hauled from hills and Delphos stone quarries.

A huge hole developed in the roadway, due to quicksand. A foundation was established by dumping many tons of stone in it and precautions are now being taken to prevent it being squashed aside by filling in each side. Traffic is possible on the street, an approach of the flaring highway.

BOSTON BIGGEST SUCKER CITY

Spirit Of Ponzi Still Entraps Victims In "Seat Of Culture"

(BY EDWARD THIERRY)

BOSTON—(Special)—The spirit of Ponzi goes marching on, and Boston is alarmed. For charges are being made that Boston, city of wisdom and culture and heavy intellect, is actually "the biggest sucker city in America."

Goldbricks are just as easy to sell as ever, according to a report made to the legislature by the Joint Committee on Banking Laws.

And William G. Thompson, of the Boston Bar Association, adds this pungent: "Not one man in 50 in this city is fit to serve on the grand jury."

A quarter of a million people, it is estimated, have lost money running into millions, beginning with the notorious Ponzi scam and continuing through the collapse of half a dozen trust companies and several recent financial handshakes.

Boston proper has 118,000 population, Metropolitan Boston, 1,222,254. The "sucker ratio," based on loss figures, is put at 33 per cent in Boston proper, reckoned, or 11 per cent for the metropolitan area.

And the "intelligence ratio," says Thompson, is a mere 2 per cent, less than 15,000 in the city proper are fit to serve on the jury, he says, and 25,000 in the greater city!

Remedial legislation is urged by the Joint Committee on Banking Laws to regulate private banks. The committee charges that gambling in foreign exchange runs into the millions.

Losses to investors totalling $7,000,000 are claimed in charges of "conspiracy to defraud" brought by the Legal Aid Society against Harry V. Greene, under indictment and at liberty under $50,000 bail in connection with investigations into the activities of two financial corporations.

Greene, who arose in a few years to dizzy financial heights from the soda counter of a Roxbury drug store, asserts that his enterprises are solvent and that no embarrassment would have occurred except for an unauthorized loan made by a cashier now dead.

In the latest trust company collapse the list of stockholders included business women, widows, shop girls and housewives. Losses are expected to approach a million dollars.

MEMORIAL HALL IS HELD TO BE SAFE

Sagging Floor Not Menace, McLaughlin Says

ARCHITECT INVESTIGATES

Fire Escape Condemned—Fire Chief To Act

Memorial Hall is given practically a clean bill of health in a report turned over to county commissioners Saturday morning by Thomas D. McLaughlin, former member of the firm of Dawson & McLaughlin, architects in charge of the construction of Memorial Hall in 1908.

The investigation and report by McLaughlin was made because of his interest in the construction of the building. He states that the foundations of the building are in splendid shape and that the building is not settling.

The tile floor of the main lobby is also asserted to be safe. The sagging, which is noticeable to the most casual observer, is due to the sagging of the wooden supporting joists. This in no way weakens the floors, McLaughlin declared. He says they are as strong as when constructed. McLaughlin's report recommends that no attempt be made to raise the floor to its former level, as any such effort would result in cracking the tile.

ROOF NOT INSPECTED

The report makes no mention of any inspection of the metal timber work in the roof of the auditorium, and, if defects exist there, they will be discovered in a future examination.

The fire escape at the rear of Memorial Hall was termed by McLaughlin Saturday morning as being "unsafe and hazardous." He recommended that the escape be repaired.

Memorial Hall is to be examined by Fire Chief John Mack for fire hazards in a few days. He will also report to the county commissioners his findings. At the last examination, Mack stated that the wiring of the building was in good condition.

The fire escape mentioned in McLaughlin's report may also be condemned in Mack's report and recommendations made which will obliterate the hazard, the chief said.

GOMPERS, ILL WITH PNEUMONIA, IMPROVES

RAIN, SNOW TO OUST OLD SOL

Bright sunshine which featured the day in a weather way, Saturday, may not return Sunday, altho most everyone will hope that Sol does not fail to do his part in providing a bright day on the morrow.

Cloudy tonight and rain or snow Sunday and probably in southwest portions late tonight. Slightly colder Sunday. Not an enticing forecast by any means, but there is no way to change it, if the weather man has thoroughly decided to have it so.

Cheerful chirping of spring birds is the most enticing feature of the open just now. Ted is cultivating their acquaintance, to learn all about the spring styles in feathers.

Dandelions and other early spring growth are growing impatient to expand and poke their heads above the surface of the earth. Lovers of greens are watching patiently, ready to reap harvest when the first opportunity is afforded.

One of the infallible signs that spring is near is the number of boys—and men—assembled in front of display windows where fishing tackle is shown.

AUTO SHOW WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Mardi Gras Feature Planned For Final Hours

Wonderfully successful has been the manner in which Lima's Auto Show, which closes Saturday night, has been characterized by both dealers and spectators.

The show was formally opened Tuesday night with an address on the history of transportation, by Mayor Harold Cunniff, and a delicious inclement weather for several days, the attendance has been up to expectations.

The vast Tabernacle contains approximately $300,000 worth of automobiles, of every make and model and spectators interested in the latest developments and innovations in motordom, have been at liberty to wander thither and yon among the booths at will, the various salesmen explaining the salient points of their products when requested.

Attendance for Friday was estimated to nearly equal that of Thursday when approximately 3,000 persons viewed the motor exhibit. The Saturday attendance is expected to be even larger and a Mardi Gras feature will mark the closing festivities of the show.

Confident, multi-colored streamers and other fun making devices will be distributed and the entire auditorium will be turned over to the spectators. Fisher's Expedition orchestra and several singers will furnish entertainment. The Tabernacle doors opened at 7 p. m. Saturday and will close finally at 11 p. m.

SHAWNEE GRANGERS HEAR ORGANIZATION HISTORY

"History of the Grange Movement" was given before an audience of 100 persons at the meeting of the Shawnee Grange at Shawnee-town Friday night by Mrs. E. O. Zurchel.

Mrs. Zurchel traced the history of the grange from its origin which, she said, began with George Washington. The story of Shawnee Grange was given by George L. Breese, who said that the W. C. T. U. was started by the body.

A program for the celebration of the golden jubilee of Shawnee Grange is being arranged, it was announced, for August 11.

SHOT IN FACE

CLEVELAND—Joseph Tymoc, 27, evidently mistaken by a bootlegger for a prohibition agent or other law officer, was shot in the face while waiting for a street car on his way to work early today. Physicians said he might lose the sight of an eye. Tymoc said he did not see the man who shot him.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists call it "Joint Ease" because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease". You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clear up all joint trouble.

Get it at your Public drug store. Hunter's 2 stores dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.—Adv.

STILL EXPLOSION FORMER LIMA CHIEF OF POLICE DIES IN BATH-TUB

Funeral services for John G. Stockton, 65, who died Friday night at his home in Bath-tub, will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at Woodland cemetery chapel, Rev. C. A. Rowland, officiating. Interment in Woodland.

He was born in Warren-co, November 9, 1857, and was appointed Chief of Police of Lima, April 1, 1892.

He is survived by his widow and one brother.

Cleveland Mother And Baby Victims Of Blast

The baby died a short time later. The mother died this morning.

After questioning Louis Bordanaro, husband of the dead woman who said he was down stairs when the explosion took place, police declared Mrs. Bordanaro was holding the infant in her arms and supervising the still's operations when the blast occurred, shattering her with the boiling liquid and wrecking the fifty gallon apparatus.

Boarder In The Home Is Sought By Police

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Josephine Bordanaro, 32, and her nine-months-old baby were dead today and police are searching for a boarder at the Bordanaro home, said to be the owner of an illicit liquor making outfit that exploded in the attic of the house late yesterday, fatally burning the woman and infant.

NEW SERVICE RECORD BY FIRE ALARM BOXES

All records of the past five years for receiving box alarms for fires in Lima, were broken early Saturday morning when box 43 at Main and Vine-sts was pulled when a gondola on the B. & O. Railroad tracks at Vine-st, caught fire from hot clinders being loaded into the car. This was the third alarm from boxes in the past week.

Sparks from a flue at the home of D. A. Edmonson, 1031 Rees-av., called out firemen at 6 p. m. Friday night. No damage resulted. Box 45 at Rees-av and the Erie Railroad was pulled.

A box at Main and McKibben-sts was used less than a week ago for a fire on B. McKibben-st.

HEIR TO RUSSIAN THRONE ALIVE

Reported Death Of Czarovitch And Grand Duke Untrue

NEWS DISTURBS SOVIET

Encouraging To Scattered Bands Of Czarists, However

(By Ray G. Marshall)
PEKING, China (United Press)—Neither the Czarovitch, direct heir to the Russian throne, nor his uncle, the Grand Duke Michael, are dead, according to reports that have reached both the Soviet and the "White" groups in Peking. These reports are so well verified that they are disturbing the Soviet representatives and encouraging the scattered bands of Czarists throughout the Far East.

Grand Duke or Prince Michael, as he is called here, is reported to be in Siam under the protection of the emperor, and the Czarovitch, if not now in the city from which Michael escaped with him, is still hiding near Irkutsk, last September, according to these stories.

It is generally believed by members of both groups in Peking that Michael was alive in a small town near Irkutsk as late as September, last for at that time the Russians said frankly he had been kidnapped by a band of guards, either "Red" or "White."

Nothing was heard of him after that until his reported presence in Siam. The report of the capture was generally credited. The Czarists were confident that the kidnapers were disguised "White" soldiers, who spirited Michael away, believing his hiding place would be discovered.

WANDERINGS OF CZAR'S HEIR
The story of the wanderings of the Czarovitch have just reached the Soviet mission in Peking.

According to this story, Russian secret agents have learned that at the time of Michael's disappearance the Czarovitch and a sister were in hiding near Irkutsk, in which district they had remained among loyal peasants after the fall of Kolchak. The report says further that the agents believe they are still in the Baikal region, though they cannot find them.

The Czarovitch first appeared near Irkutsk in a town that was temporarily under the control of "White" bands and there made known his identity. Those who saw him said he resembled the Czarovitch, but told him they thought he was an impostor. He is said to have replied: "Why should I or anyone impersonate a boy whose head is wanted?"

Thereafter, persons were secretly brought in who had seen the Czarovitch before the overthrow. A former teacher of the Czarovitch was found to look at both the boy and girl, his verdict was:

"This is the Czarovitch and that is his sister. They are not impostors."

After that, they again went into hiding and so well they secreted, the report says, that the few who knew of the incident supposed they had been kidnapped and killed.

How the Czarovitch and one of his sisters could have escaped when the camp and other members of the immediate family were killed is not explained. Naturally, confirmation of the entire story is impossible under the existing disturbed condition in this corner of the world.

FALLS FROM TRAIN

Man Found Unconscious On Erie Railroad Right Of Way

The unconscious form of a Northland immigrant was discovered along the Erie tracks west of Spencer Saturday by David Johnston, Erie detective, who was sent out early in the morning to inspect the Erie tracks between Marion and Huntington. "Look, for a man believed to have fallen from a west-bound Erie passenger train."

The immigrant's absence was discovered when the train conductor checked up on his passengers in Huntington. It is thought that the injured man walked from the platform or the car while asleep. He suffered severe lacerations about the head and several broken ribs. Johnston removed him to Spencer, where he will recover, it is stated.

LOVE TRIANGLE ENDS IN DEATH

Husband, Wife Both Admit Slaying Intruder

WARNED TO STAY AWAY

Infatuated Man Failed To Heed Friendly Counsel

(By J. P. Wright)
KANSAS CITY.—(Special).—Details of a new type of triangle slaying soon will be laid bare in the Kansas City (Mo.) courts.

In the familiar triangle the wife—or her lover—slays the husband, that illicit love may be legitimized.

But in this strange case the alleged lover has been slain—shot down in a street battle in which shots were fired by the husband and by the wife.

The husband, police say, admits he fired the shot that caused the "other man's" death. He says he did it because the alleged lover persisted in annoying his wife after she told him it was "all over," according to affidavits.

THE WIFE MATE
The wife upholds her husband in his act and will aid in his defense.

Principals in this strange love maze are Frank Merritt, a motorcycle policeman; Alice, his wife, and Reuben Shell, the slain man.

Here is the story, according to evidence in the hands of the prosecutor:

Merritt worked at night. He welcomed the offer of his friend, Shell, heir of a wealthy family, to take his wife and children out motor riding in the evenings.

But soon, the prosecutor will seek to show, the children were left at home and Mrs. Merritt and Shell went riding alone. The neighbors began to talk.

WARNED AWAY
Merritt told Shell to stay away. Shell refused. He'd meet Mrs. Merritt on every possible occasion—when she shopped, when she visited, whenever she left the house.

The husband talked frankly to his wife. She agreed to drop the troublesome friendship. They went to a personal friend, Chief of Police C. A. Vassar, who counseled them to forget the past and become the loving mates they had been.

But Shell would not be thwarted. He continually followed Mrs. Merritt, police say Merritt told them.

Then the wife armed herself, the claims the prosecutor. One night the Merritts met Shell on a boulevard.

A hail of bullets followed. Shell dropped, a leaden pellet in his heart. Though all three fired shots, Merritt declares, police say, that he fired the death shot and that Shell fired on him first.

The wife was released, but Merritt must stand trial. Self-defense will be his plea.

TUNNEL PLAN IS AGREED UPON

Pennsylvania Rail Overhead At Scott's Crossing

WILL ELIMINATE DANGER

Pierce-St Chosen As Location For Overhead Here

Construction of a tunnel under the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at Scott's Crossing to eliminate a dangerous grade crossing on the Harding Highway was virtually agreed upon at a conference held Saturday between County Surveyor Walter H. Toy and J. T. Sours, division engineer of the railroad.

After viewing the situation, Sours declared that the Pennsylvania will be willing to raise its tracks from three to four feet.

The railroad company is also contemplating raising the level of a bridge over the Auglaize river near the proposed tunnel.

With the railroad in line, it will now be necessary for the county to require the Port Wayne, Van Wert and Lima traction company to raise its tracks. The electric line parallels the Pennsylvania. The traction line rails will have to be raised about eight to 10 feet, Toy estimated.

By changing the course of a by-road which crosses the railroad and electric lines some 200 yards west of Scott's Crossing, the highway can be brought through the tunnel eliminating a second grade crossing.

Paving of a portion of the Harding Highway at Scott's Crossing was held up last year because of the grade crossing there.

Federal road inspectors pronounced the spot to be a menace to traffic.

Sours was unable to state when the Pennsylvania will be able to undertake the improvement.

Agreement on N. Pierce-st as the most practicable point for building an overhead on the Pennsylvania in Lima, was made at a conference of city and county engineers with Sours, representing the railroad.

The banks on both sides of the right of way at the proposed point are high, and very little elevation will be required to afford 22 feet clearance underneath the overhead.

Payment for the improvement will have to be undertaken by the city and the railroad, county commissioners said. Pierce-st is not a county road, and no county money can be spent for its improvement under existing laws.

Engineer Sours declared that his company will consider an overhead at N. Metcalfe-st at present, because of the necessity of lowering the tracks at least 10 feet.

This would mean the establishment of a new track level thru the entire city, Sours said.

Aside from West-st, Pine-st and Jackson-st there are no other points in the city where the county can join in the cost of constructing an overhead. Commissioner John Thompson declared Saturday. The streets named are practically the only ones crossing the Pennsylvania tracks that are old county roads.

This will compel the city, it is believed, to pay 35 per cent of the cost of building an overhead at Pierce-st. The railroad will pay 65 per cent of the improvement. County commissioners also took up the matter of an overhead at Delphos-av and N. Jamison-av with Sours, but no decision was reached.

ORPHEUM'S BILL ONE OF MERIT

The Phelps-Cobb company, on a two weeks' engagement at the New Orpheum theatre, offers for the final times today, "Mum's the Word," a comedy and features.

The company has been held the company is given the opportunity to display their real ability. Honey Gal and Buzz are fine as dispensers of comedy and provide many laughs thruout the play. The company's quartette offers some real harmony in their selections and other members of the company have ample opportunity to exhibit their versatility.

The costumes and scenic effects are in standing with the better class of productions.

The company has been held over for another week and will offer as their Sunday attraction "Honey-mooning," one of the best of their repertoire of 100 productions. Honey Gal and Buzz, of course, will be the featured leads of the play and there will be entire change of scenic effects.

PROHIBITION BILL NOT EXPECTED TO BECOME LAW

LONDON—Even the Lady Astor's prohibition bill is not expected to become law, despite the fact that it passed its second reading in the house of commons yesterday by a vote of 338 to 56. It is admitted on all sides that she achieved a remarkable parliamentary success and enhanced her reputation as a member of the British legislature.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Poskuszny, 106 High Street, Bay City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. It made me so sick that I was tired of living and the weakness run me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, headache or any other form of female weakness you should write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

SEEDS YOU SOW

WITH spring approaching swiftly, most of us feel the stirring of seed-planting instinct inherited from days when our ancestors lived naturally close to the soil. It is an instinct that dies hard, even when smothered by the congestion of cities. You realize this as you see the city man planning a home garden almost pathetic in size, and his wife eager to plant flowers.

In all philosophy, there is nothing more fundamental and far-reaching than the Biblical parable about the sower who went forth to sow. Some seed fell on fertile ground and sprouted. Some fell on barren ground and brought no results.

In the above pen-picture, Artist Satterfield illustrates the ancient parable. And, by having the farmer sow by hand, he puts more life into his picture than if he had drawn a "scientific" machine sower.

The old parable applies to the life of each of us, in this way: We work on the law of averages. Effort is like seed. Not all of it brings results. But some does. Naturally, given fertile soil, the more seed we plant (the more effort we put forth), the greater will be our crop. The crop is fortune, fame, health or happiness, whether they come singly or in combinations.

Handed down from the misty past is the bit of wisdom, that we reap as we sow. Not always, possibly, but true on the law of averages. Many of us, wretched and unhappy now, are reaping the harvest of wrong seed sown in the past.

The approach of spring should bring new courage and determination, for spring fairly shouts to us to forget the old crop and sow new seed for a new harvest. As we are sowing now, we'll reap later—money, fame, happiness, health. It's the law of cause and effect—compensation, Emerson called it.

MYSTERY OF THE PAST

SCIENTISTS, spurred by the discovery of King Tut's tomb, will dig into ruins in Yucatan to learn more about the Mayas, believed to have been the oldest civilization on the American continent.

The most important discovery that could come from this scientific expedition would be an explanation of how the Mayas happened to have many of the same symbols as the ancient Egyptians carved on their temples and tombs. One must have visited the other. Which?

SEXES

MANY more highbrows among our women than our men, says Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, anthropologist of Smithsonian Institution, after liberal use of a yardstick.

What he has in mind is the tall forehead, not intelligence. The theory that the two necessarily go together probably started when people noticed that Daniel Webster and a few others had huge skulls. It may be true, on the average, but we know a lot of exceptions.

An impartial observer from Mars would make a 50-50 report on our men and women, with a none too flattering grade for either.

The heart (character) is more important than mentality. Real spirituality is not in the brain.

YOUR SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Prepared for The Lima News by Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson

Gethsemane marks the final turning point in the life of our Lord. His experience there made it the world's garden of suffering, sorrow and struggle. His agony there has associated the word in human thought with the deepest sorrows of human life. It calls for meditation rather than exposition. No experience in His life has revealed His humanity like His agony in the garden. It was an hour without parallel in history. Many have found when they have been called upon to enter their Gethsemane, a source of strength by recalling the Master's agony in the garden, where the olives were pressed into oil by the feet of men.

Our Lord entered it alone. Prophecy was fulfilled that memorable night. He could have said in truth, "I have trodden the winepress alone," His suffering was so intense that His body "was involved in the agony of the soul until the sweat was as it were great drops of blood." Gethsemane was more than a place of sorrow, it was the site of the world's greatest victory. This mountain top experience of the Master was a heroic struggle. In the silence of the night he fought the battle of Calvary. Within the limits of that garden history's holiest character met and defeated the darkest one in a battle for supremacy. No other person ever faced such an hour as our Lord. No other loved humanity like the Christ. It was in Gethsemane that Jesus won the triumph of the cross. He entered as He left the garden, calm and confident of the victory. He won this battle as we must win those that we are called upon to face at the oil press by thinking of others rather than self. We must understand that he was Waterloo upon the campus at Gethsemane. Like Jesus we must win our battles before we enter the contest. Secret prayer will fit us as it did Him with power to win.

JESUS IN GETHSEMANE.
—Luke 22: 1-73.
Golden Text:—Christ also suffered for sinners, the righteous, that he might bring us to God.—1 Peter 3:18.

During all His ministry Jesus had faced the cross. He sought to prepare the Apostles for their darkness and trial. He approached Jerusalem conscious of His enemy's plans. He tried to win them. He sought to prevent Judas from betraying Him. An unknown friend demonstrated his love and loyalty by providing the upper room with all the accessories for the observance of the passover. The Lord took advantage of that service to fit the disciples for the coming conflict. His message concerning the future, recorded by John, has helped many a heart to endure when they have entered the Valley of the Shadow. He not only assured them of a future place in the Father's home but by the institution of the Lord's Supper He provided a memorial that would testify through the centuries how "Christ also has suffered for sinners, that He might bring us to God" and trophies of His eternal fellowship with Him when we shall partake with Him of the bread and cup at His coming.

He saw in the weeds of humanity with which He proposed to build His kingdom strife over position of preeminence. He sought to correct this by the impressive object of service when He washed their feet. While He thus emphasized the beneficence of love in the moving strife He called upon them to be prepared even to the extent of providing a commissary department and equipment for defense. Christian service calls for the use of every resource and capacity of the human soul and body. The Christian is none the less a man. The hour comes when self defense is a duty. Gustavus Adolphus, Howard Gordon, Stonewall Jackson, Howard, Albeny, Koch, Pershing and General Peng have demonstrated that they were truly followers of Christ when leading their armies as much as when upon their knees.

FIGHTING ALONE
Reaching the Garden's outer gate, Jesus left eight of the Apostles to guard Him of approaching danger. Three of the number He took with Him until He reached His favorite place of prayer. Leaving them there our Lord went alone into the solitude where He was accustomed to pray, to pour out His soul in prayer. There beneath the olive trees it may be said that the expiation of our sins began. Here Jesus felt the burden of sin. He staggered under its load. While it is impossible for us to penetrate the deep recesses of Gethsemane, the striking passage in the Epistle to the Hebrews furnishes a key to its meaning, the experience of the Garden being closely connected with His being "called of God an High Priest after the order of Melchisedec."

This thought of Him as our High Priest is a torch to enlighten for us the darkness of the Garden's gloom. Reverently we may conceive then of Him as in that hour taking on Himself the sin of the world, in a more intimate sense than ever before. Not before Caiaphas, not at Pilate's judgment seat was the issue to be decided, but here and now before the dawn of morning. Like the drama of many other souls, it is played in the darkness of the night and alone with God. If in this special sense Christ assumed the awful burden here, can we wonder that He who was without sin shrank from being "made sin"?

It was the purity of soul and spirit that made Him shrink, that wrong from His body beads of blood and from His heart the thrice-repeated cry, "Father, if it be possible let this cup pass from me." It was only a new form of the temptation of the wilderness, but with a full realization of the bitterness of the cup, Christ acknowledged obedience to Divine law. "Not my will, but what Thou wilt." Jesus was praying to "One" who could hear and answer prayer. He tells us that He was high unto death. Probably the cup referred to a possible mis-carriage of the eternal flames of redemption. The strain of His campaign had probably affected His heart. He recognized that He was near to death and that the world and the world's work would be left to the world. He was to be defeated unless He went to the cross. In answer to His cry our Lord received strength from above so that He was enabled to complete the work of salvation.

OUR GETHSEMANE

Few who have reached the age of maturity have not passed thru a Gethsemane which has left its mark upon their soul. When we come to the "oil press," there we must decide between following God's will or our own. As we think of Gethsemane, we recall the tale of the betrayal and the suicide so closely connected by the remorse of Judas. We must note, however, that Judas was not repentant and that these feelings are not at all synonymous. Judas' remorse expressed itself in confession to the priests, "I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood." We have every reason to believe that he never confessed to his God, for if he had, his untimely end would have been avoided and he would have thrown himself into the breach in an effort to make some reparation. As it was, we can believe that his remorse was occasioned by a desire to escape the results of his sin, nothing more.

As we see the awful catastrophe that befell Judas, resulting from sins common to us all, there comes the injunction of the Psalmist, "Guard thy heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life." If our study teaches us this lesson, it will not have been in vain, and we may be saved from crucifying afresh our Lord and Master.

RUBE BENTON "NOT WANTED" IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

CENTRAL WINS

Central's basketball team made an impressive ending for their 1923 cage season when they walloped the Findlay team by a 38 to 14 score.

Altho the Central lads were unable to hit the basket regularly in the first half their passing and floorwork were too much for the Findlay gang in the second period, and the Central lads scored almost at will. At the end of the first half the score was 11 to 8 in the Red and Green's favor. During the second session Central made 27 points, 12 fielders and three fouls while Ada had to be contented with a foul and two fielders.

Three of Central's star athletes made their final bow to interscholastic sports in Lima. Walter Seeley, John Hollister and Al Swisher will be seen no more in a Central uniform. These, with Paul Berdette, disgraced last week, were the four mainstays in Central athletics in the past year.

This has been one of the best basketball years ever completed by a Central team. Out of fifteen starts the up-town lads have knocked off eleven victories. They have made a total of 400 points which their opponents have made an even 310.
